"Universalism"

No 'ism' except universalism can be tolerated in the educational system.”—P.R. Sarkar A Universal outlook is nurtured which transcends caste, creed, color, race and gender. This includes an appreciation of historic contributions to human society from all people and promoting the ethic of society as 'one universal family'. Neo Humanism recognizes only the broadest sentiment of Universalism, which embraces all the entities of the Cosmos, including plants, animals and the inanimate world, and rejects all other dogmatic sentiments which impose limitations on the human mind. These include: geo-sentiment (partiality to one's territory), socio-sentiment (partiality to one's community), human sentiment (partiality to humans), etc.

Theme: — Since development, intellectual as well as emotional, respect for others and the environment make up the main pillars of our teaching, we have incorporated them into themes that run like common threads through our school year as well as our teaching methods. These themes are incorporated in the daily life of the kids through projects, books, counting, writing, singing, dance et
